Faubus Vetoes Bill to Open L. R. Schools

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A bill to open Little Rock's closed public high schools next September was vetoed by Gov. Orval C. Faubus yesterday.

The governor said the measure would have weakened his school closing power under an anti-integration act passed by a special session of the state Legislature last summer.

His veto came as a surprise to many because when the bill was introduced in the Senate Faubus said he didn't object to it.

The measure had the backing of the entire Pulaski County delegation.

Under it, control of the closed schools would have been returned to the Little Rock School Board.

The board would have had to open the schools under the state's pupil assignment law, which provides for students to be assigned to particular schools for a variety of reasons.

The bill wouldn't have prevented the governor from closing the schools again. They have been shut all year to avert integration.

In his veto message, Faubus declared:

"In my opinion, Act 4 (the school closing law) continues to provide the people of Arkansas with a major weapon for use against those who would usurp the right of the people . . . to control public education within the borders of this state.

"I fear that this measure (the school opening law) could seriously . . .

Allotments for Cotton Due April 17

Cotton farmers are reminded that Friday, April 17, is the final date for farmers to release their 1959 cotton acreage allotments to the Hemstead ASC County Committee for reallocation to other cotton producers in the County.

Under applicable regulations, a farmer may release his cotton allotment for 1959 and be assured of receiving the same history credit for 1960 as he would have received had he actually planted the cotton on his farm. Since this is the case the County Committee is urging all cotton farmers in the County who have an allotment and does not intend to plant it this year, to release such acreage at the County ASC Office as soon as convenient but in no case later than April 17, 1959.

Cotton allotment acreage not planted nor released will result in a net loss in future County Allotments. It is therefore, to the interest of each cotton producer in the County to see that every acre not to be planted is timely released to the ASC County Office.

Violent Storms Leave Trail of Death, Damage

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Violent spring storms which struck devastating blows across sections of Texas and Oklahoma abated today, leaving a toll of dead and injured and extensive property damage.

Tornadoes killed at least six persons in two small communities in north central Texas. More than a half dozen twisters which raked the two states also injured 59 persons, including 51 in Texas.

There were no survivors after an Air Force KC15 tanker plane from Bergstrom Air Force Base at Austin, Tex., crashed and burst during a severe thunderstorm near Killeen in central Texas. The plane normally carries a crew of four but Air Force officials declined to say how many men were on the plane.

The tornado winds which pounded the north central Texas area and sections of northeast Oklahoma, flattened and damaged scores of homes, damaged gasoline plants and toppled 20 derricks in one of the largest oil fields in north central Texas.

The storms were part of a general pattern of severe weather from Texas into parts of eastern Oklahoma, western Arkansas, southeastern Kansas and western Missouri. Heavy rain, hail and strong winds lashed the region.

The tornadoes in Texas hit hardest at the small towns of Vaughan and Bynum, 10 miles east. Three persons died and 20 others were injured in the wreckage of their homes in Vaughan. Two persons were killed and 11 injured at Bynum. Seventeen persons suffered injuries when a twister hammered three small towns northeast of Gainesville.

The small community of Silver City, 30 miles west of Tulsa, suffered heaviest damage in the tornadoes which struck northeast Oklahoma. Police estimated three-fourths of the farm community was damaged. The second twister in Oklahoma skipped across a tourist court near Kingston on Lake Texoma, demolishing two cabins and a home.

Funnels were sighted in Kansas and a city-wide tornado alert was posted for Kansas City, Mo. for 15 minutes Tuesday night. Rain, strong wind and some hail lashed the area.

Rain pelted wide sections from the tornado belt northward into Iowa and Illinois. Harvest falls were in northern areas from Kansas City into southern Iowa.

Heavy rain showers with possible severe thunderstorms were expected to spread through the middle Mississippi Valley during the day and into the Ohio Valley, Pennsylvania and New York by late afternoon or early evening.

Crew of Four Killed in Tanker Crash

By EDDIE KOLENOVSKY

KILLEEN, Tex. (AP)—An Air Force tanker plane crashed on a small mountain near here during a thunderstorm Tuesday night, killing the crew of four.

The four-engine jet KC15 was on a routine training flight from Bergstrom Air Force base at Austin, Tex.

The base listed the crewmen as: 1st Lt. Rodney Anderlitch, 23, San Antonio, Tex.; Maj. Jesse Lee Myrick, Wichita Falls, Tex.; 1st Lt. Philip Camillo De Bonis, 25, Newark, N.J.; T. Sgt. Herman Allison Clark, 45, Tampa, Fla.

An Air Force officer said indications were the plane came apart before it hit the impact area. He pointed out that two of the jet engines were only damaged when they hit the ground.

The officer said the pilot radioed only three minutes before the crash that everything was all right.

The craft crashed and exploded in a cedar-covered area. Wreckage was scattered over a half mile area. The largest piece of the plane intact was only four by five feet.

The site of the crash is the Pink Stone ranch, 10 miles southwest of the central Texas town of Belton.

Willard Parker, who lives across the road from the ranch, he was awakened by a loud roar and saw a big orange colored explosion on the mountain.

India Official Lashes Back at Red China

NEW DELHI (AP)—India's deputy foreign minister today accused the Communist Chinese Embassy in New Delhi of challenging Prime Minister Nehru's "integrity and honesty" in the Tibetan revolt.

The government spokesman in Parliament, Mrs. Lakshmi Menon, said it was "highly improper" for the Embassy to distribute a statement that the trading town of Kalimpong in northeast India was the "command center of the Tibetan revolt" after Nehru had denied the allegation.

Nehru is returning to New Delhi Thursday with relations between India and Red China approaching a delicate pitch.

Another touchy diplomatic situation loomed for Nehru with reports that the Dalai Lama and members of his Cabinet, who were replaced by the Chinese Communists, might be heading for India.

The 23-year-old Dalai Lama, worshipped by Tibetans as their spiritual and political leader, disappeared from his capital in Lhasa shortly before or during the fighting against the Communist occupation forces. The Communists said the rebels kidnapped him. Anti-Communist Tibetans in Kalimpong reported he fled to lead the rebellion from southern Tibet.

Gas Truck Blast Follows Wreck

NORTH LITTLE ROCK (AP)—A gasoline truck and a tractor-trailer collided at the Pulaski Creek Bridge on U.S. Highway 63 near North Little Rock early today and the truck exploded, showering flaming fuel and settling off a nearby railroad bridge.

The driver of the 7,500-gallon gasoline truck was killed but the tractor segment of the second vehicle broke free at the moment of impact and carried its driver to safety.

Identify of the dead man could not be established immediately.

Firemen from North Little Rock were dispatched to the scene, about 15 miles north of here and brought the blaze under control.

Union Member Charged in Strike Murder

BARBOURVILLE, Ky. (AP)—A 21-year-old, African American, voluntarily, was charged with murder today in the slaying of a Knox County nonunion coal operator.

State Police identified him as Fred L. Gregory of Four Mile in nearby Bell County. They said he was among those present Tuesday when Woodrow Smith was shot six times.

Gregory, held in Knox County Jail, had no comment.

State Police said they still are seeking a United Mine Workers official and five other men for questioning in the case. Public Safety Commissioner Don Sturgill said the UMW official not identified, may be "key to the solution of Smith's death."

Public Safety Commissioner Don Sturgill reported an unnamed UMW official, wanted for questioning in the shooting, reportedly is hiding in Tennessee.

Sturgill said anyone who took part in this cold-blooded murder will be charged as principals, or accessories to murder. Subpoenas will be issued for 35 or 40 suspects in the murder case, he said.

The situation in eastern Kentucky mining areas is extremely tense, he said. "Many mine owners are in fear of their lives."

Operators in seven counties have been resisting UMW demands for a new contract providing a $24.25 a day pay scale, up 2. An autopsy disclosed Smith was shot five times, apparently with a .38 caliber weapon, while he and a companion headed for a miner's home.

En route, they were stopped by five men who, after learning Smith's identity, shouted: "That's the man we want." They marched away with Smith but permitted his companion to return to the mine.

The body was found an hour later by a mine employee.

Gov. A. B. Chandler alerted the National Guard last week but so far has given no indication they will be called for duty.

Quarter of Votes Found Legitimate

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Almost a fourth of the disputed votes in the election of Traffic Judge Robert W. Laster to the Little Rock School Board were found yesterday to be legitimate.

A total of 147 votes was removed from the disputed list as a result of testimony in Circuit Court on a suit brought by Mrs. Charles W. Stephens.

That left 478 votes still under challenge.

Mrs. Stephens in her suit contends she should have been declared the winner of the Dec. 8 school board election, not Laster.

U.S. Travel Ban Is Imposed on Soviet Diplomats

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States today imposed a temporary ban on travel by Soviet diplomats in the United States in retaliation for a similar ban on the movements of American diplomats in the Soviet Union.

State Department press officer Lincoln White said the prohibition on travel—from which New York, Washington travel is excepted—will be lifted when the Soviets lift the ban they announced earlier today.

"Our embassy in Moscow," White said, "has reported that the Soviet Union for 'temporary reasons' has apparently closed down all travel of foreign mission personnel, both civilian and military, to any area in the Soviet Union with the exception of Leningrad."

"Soviet authorities have refused to state how long this temporary ban will last."

U. S. Promises Revival of Berlin Airlift

By SEYMOUR TOPPING

BERLIN (AP)—The U.S. Air Force served notice on the Soviets today it will go on flying high altitude transports to West Berlin "at any time a military requirement is established."

An Air Force spokesman made this statement shortly after a Soviet Embassy warning that Communist planes into the isolated city unless there is a settlement of the dispute which became public Tuesday.

The U.S. State Department has declared that the United States will continue to fly planes into Berlin at whatever altitude it deems necessary.

The dispute came into the open when the United States and the Soviet Union traded protests over the flight of a U.S. Air Force transport into West Berlin last Friday.

The transport—a turbojet flying at its normal cruising altitude of about 20,000 feet—was buzzed by three Soviet MIG jets on both its inbound and return flight to West Germany.

West Ministers to Offer Russia a Package Deal

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP)—Western foreign ministers were reported today to be framing a package deal to propose to the Soviet Union for settlement of the Berlin crisis and the larger issues of German reunification.

The foreign policy makers of Britain, France and West Germany unveiled at the State Department with Acting Secretary of State Christian A. Herter.

They were under pressure to make some basic German policy decisions by night, since they are scheduled to report to a meeting of the foreign ministers of NATO Thursday on their plans.

The talks, begun Tuesday, were resumed against a background of increasing tensions over Soviet control of traffic in Allied air corridors between West Germany and West Berlin.

The Soviet Embassy in East Berlin declared "complications" would result, if the United States persisted in flying transport aircraft into Berlin at altitudes above 10,000 feet.

The U.S. Air Force in Germany said transports, which operate most efficiently between 20,000 and 30,000 feet, will be used on the Berlin flights as necessary in spite of Soviet warnings.

Three Soviet jet fighters buzzed a transport which first went to Berlin last week at 25,000 feet. The Soviets followed that incident with their demand for U.S. acceptance of the 10,000-foot ceiling. The State Department rejected this demand.

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
WASHINGTON (AP)— Allied foreign ministers were reported working steadily toward agreement today on a package deal to propose to the Soviet Union for sweeping settlements of the Berlin crisis and the future of Germany.

The primary purpose is to probe the Soviet Union's willingness, if any, to negotiate at Geneva next month on German unification and European arms control measures. They were reported pessimistic about the possibility of a favorable Soviet response but were described as agreeing that the effort must be made.

The foreign ministers of Britain, France, West Germany and Acting Secretary of State Christian Herter were scheduled to hold the second round of their Washington talks in a State Department conference room.

The initial session Tuesday, held by Herter with Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd of Britain and French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Mureville produced a new warning to the Soviets against taking a summit conference this summer for granted.

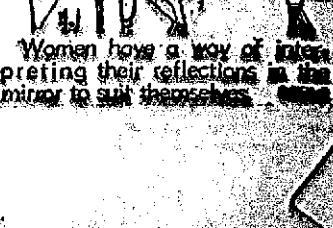

In a public statement, the Western Big Three reassured the stand taken in notes to the Soviet government last week that the May meeting of foreign ministers must make some progress toward solving the Berlin and German problem in order to justify a meeting at the summit.

Saenger to Feature Old Comedies

"The Golden Age Of Comedy," showing today and tomorrow at the Saenger Theatre in Hope, is a collection of the funniest episodes ever created by some of Hollywood's greatest comedy stars. The cast includes Will Rogers, Stan Laurel and Oliver Hardy, Jean Harlow, Carole Lombard, Ben Turpin, Harry Langdon, the Keystone Cops and many others. Jack Paar, Steven Allen, Earl Wilson and Danton Walker have called it the most honored comedy in many years and are urging people to see it.

Time has turned backward to make life as funny as it was in the 20's which as everyone has heard, was a period of sustained riot. People dancing out of windows, jumping into empty swimming pools, having a real whaling ding to a time in a custard pie battle or roaring after each other in strip down jolopies, makes this slapstick to satire full length feature an enormously entertaining film.

Playing on the same program with "The Golden Age Of Comedy" is another mighty adventure by the author of "Moby Dick," the beautiful "Enchanted Island," which stars Dana Andrews and Jane Powell.

A special kiddie matinee starts at 4 o'clock today and tomorrow.

statistics from the magazine Business Week.

The average income for each person in Arkansas was $1,198, up 4.8 per cent over 1957, the magazine said. Nationwide per capita income dropped 7 per cent.

The per capita increase in Arkansas was partly explained by the fact that the state suffered a population loss of 8 per cent in 1958.

However, total personal income of Arkansas residents increased 4.8 per cent to more than two billion dollars. The national increase in personal income was 3.7 per cent.

Rape Case at El Dorado Goes to Jury

EL DORADO, Ark. (AP)—The fate of a Negro accused of raping an elderly white woman was expected to be placed into the hands of an all-male Circuit Court jury today.

The state said at the opening of the trial yesterday that it sought the death penalty for Lennie B. Mitchell, 23, an El Dorado resident. Mitchell sat impassive as the 77-year-old widow he is charged with attacking testified of the assault.

She was not asked to point out her attacker. The woman, who used a cane to hobble to the witness stand, said her assailant raped her in her bedroom early on the morning of March 16 and then said, "Now that was all right, honey, wasn't it?"

He then threatened her and warned her not to call the police, she said.

J. S. Thomas, Mitchell's court-appointed defense attorney, did not cross-examine her.

Selection of the jury, which contains two Negroes, took much of yesterday's session. It is the second time Negroes have sat on a Circuit Court jury here.

Speaking in barely audible tone, the woman said she was awakened in the early morning hours by a said a knife was at her throat. "If you're quiet, I ain't going to hurt you," she said, her assailant told her.

As the man left, she said, he took a wallet which contained $160.

She was shown a wallet the prosecution said was taken from Mitchell and identified it as the one stolen from her house.

Mitchell was arrested a few hours after the woman called police and reported she had been attacked.

The trial drew a standing room only crowd, with about half the persons Negroes.

Seventeen officers, including state troopers, sheriffs, deputies and city policemen, were deployed around the courtroom.

There were no incidents.

Mexico Chases Two Russian Attaches

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Mexico has ordered two Soviet Embassy attaches expelled from the country, charging they had a hand in the Easter weekend rail strike. Two other Red attaches were reported marked to go.

An official source said the second secretary of the Soviet Embassy, Nikolai M. Remisov, and a military attaché, Nikolai A. Ashkov, were given until Friday to get out of the country. They reportedly plan to take a Canadian airliner Friday morning to Toronto.

Two members of a diplomatic mission from an unidentified Soviet satellite also were reported to have been declared no longer welcome in Mexico. There was speculation they were Czechoslovak or Polish.

The strike fizzled Monday after the government had rounded up an estimated 3,000 leftist union leaders and followers. The government said it had evidence the strike was a Communist plot.

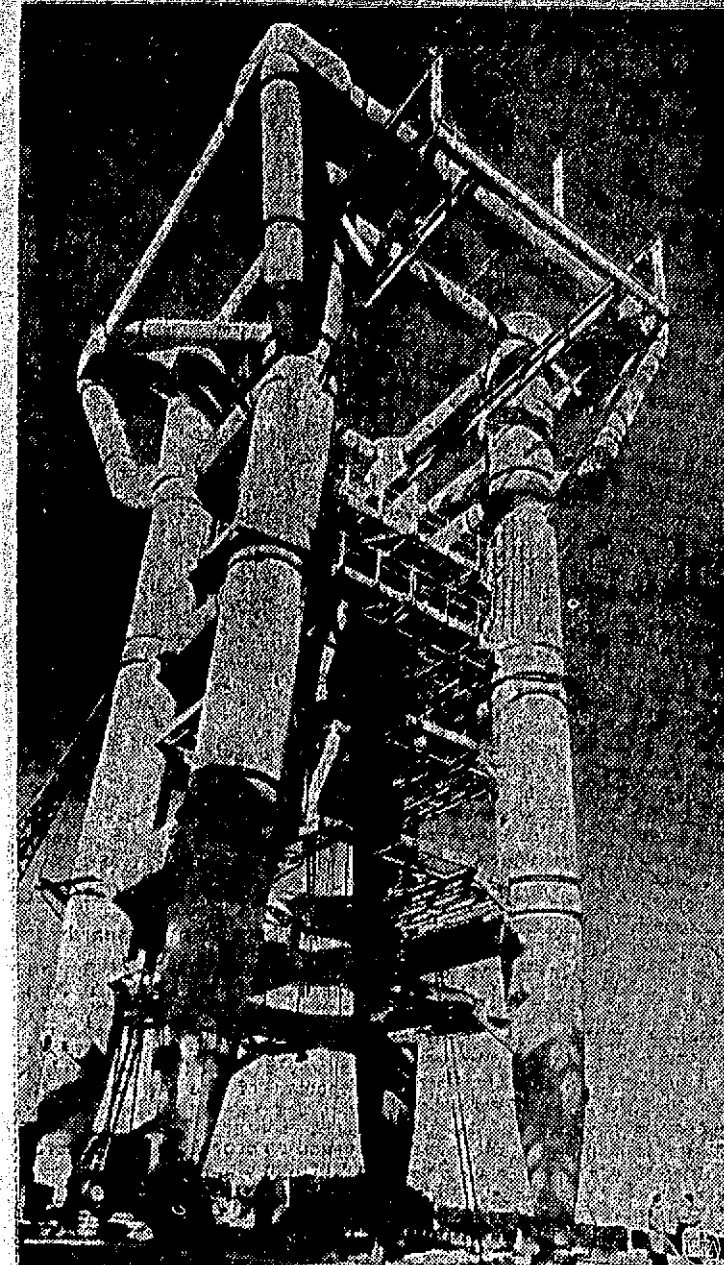

Workers flocked to their jobs Tuesday and officials said 140 trains were back on the run. Many of the workers said they had been coerced into striking by threats of torture or reprisals against their families.

The two Soviets were said to have had regular contact with Demetrio Vallejo, leftist rail union leader who organized the last three national rail strikes. He was arrested Sunday and reportedly talked to authorities about the Soviets' role in the walkout.

After Vallejo's arrest, the government appointed a four-man group to direct the railway union. An election of new officers was ordered in an effort to root out Vallejo's influence.

The strikers called for a 10 per cent wage boost granted earlier in workers on the National Railways, which carry the bulk of Mexico's passenger and freight traffic.

U. S. Funds Paid for Rent to Politicians

WASHINGTON (AP)—Government funds were paid to five political organizations for congressional office space during 1957-58, House records show.

The records also show that 12 House members rented space for persons or organizations with the same family name.

Made public by the House disbursing clerk, the records are for the year ended last June 30. Rental vouchers for the current fiscal year which started last July 1 will not be available until later.

House members, according to law, are allowed $1,200 a year to rent office space in their home districts. Bonus Players Traded by Phils to Milwaukee

By JIM KENSIL Associated Press Sports Writer

In 1951 the Philadelphia Phillies gave Ted Kazanski $50,000 to sign a bonus contract.

Two years later Pittsburgh gave Johnny O'Brien a "five-figure" sum to join the Pirates.

Tuesday the Milwaukee Braves gave the Phils virtually nothing but a longshot for both incidents, plus power-hitting catcher Stan Lopata.

This longshot is long (6-foot-8) Gene Conley, the basketball-playing pitcher who had a 0-6 record for the National League champions last season. He earned run average was 4.88 in 26 innings. Since 1954, when he won 14 games as a rookie, the 28-year-old right-hander has been going downhill.

Going to Philadelphia with him were infielder outfielder Harry Hanebrink and infielder Joe Koppe, neither of whom is a proven major leaguer. Hanebrink, 31, hit only .188 in 68 games with the Braves last season, and Koppe, 27, appeared in only 16 games, going 4-for-9 in his infrequent batting chances.

Both O'Brien and Kazanski, although weak hitters, have proven they can play a major league season at second base, where the Braves need help the most. Kazanski is 25, O'Brien 28, and the latter, a right hander can pitch a few innings in a pinch. Lopata, 34, hit 16 home runs in 11 years with the Phils and he is a strong replacement for Braves' No. 1 catcher Del Crandall.

The trade followed a full day of exhibition games in which Philadelphia and Milwaukee both lost.

Jim O'Toole, Cincinnati's $50,000 bonus left-hander, tossed no-hit ball for four innings as the Reds stopped the Phils 3-0 on three hits.

The Los Angeles Dodgers, who continue to pace the NL with an 11-7 exhibition mark, whipped the Braves 9-2. The Dodgers broke a four-game losing streak as Gene Snyder and Billy Harris allowed the Braves only seven hits.

Kansas City beat the New York Yanks for the third straight day, 4-2. The As got to rookie John Gabel in the ninth.

Baltimore atop the major league spring standings with a 12-0 mark, had to pitch 11 innings against Washington before winning 9-8 on a two-run single by Bob Nieman.

The Chicago Cubs lashed Boston 11-6 after Red Sox starter Tom Brewer blew a four-run first inning lead, fashioned by Bill Renne's grand slam homer. The Cubs edged out 16 hits, including home runs by John Goryl and Earl Averill.

Bob Friend gave up 13 hits but went the route for Pittsburgh as the Pirates defeated Detroit 6-3. Don Hoak homered in the eighth to break a 4-4 tie.

Billy Pierce and Bob Shaw combined on a six-inning for the Chicago White Sox in a 5-1 victory over St. Louis.

San Francisco, getting homers from Bob Schmidt and Orlando Cepeda, defeated Cleveland 7-5.

Syracuse Will Try to Upset the Celtics

BOSTON (AP) — The stubborn Syracuse Nationals attempt to snap Boston's home-court hex and eliminate the Celtics tonight in a Garden showdown for the right to represent the Eastern division of the National Basketball Assn. championship.

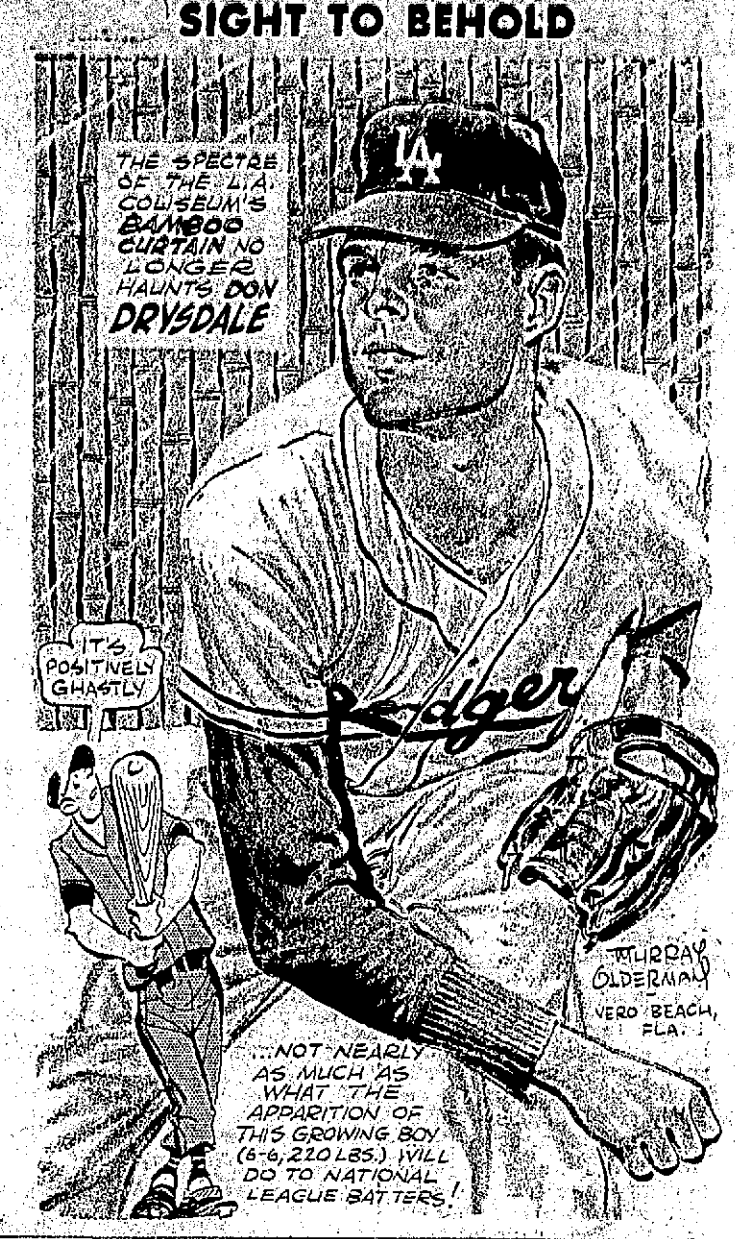

All seven games in their best-of-seven struggle, the Nationals face a monumental task to sweep past the Celtics and into the NBA finals against the Minneapolis Lakers, Western division conquerors of mighty St. Louis.

In the three previous games in Boston, the Celtics have clobbered the upset-minded Syracuse team by margins of 22, 22 and 21 points, respectively.

Key members of both teams nursed minor ailments, but all hands are expected to be ready for the vital engagement.

The Syracuse-Boston winner will open the best-of-seven finals at home against the Lakers Saturday afternoon, with the second game on Sunday. The third and fourth contests will be in Minneapolis. St. Paul on the nights of April 7 and 9.

Porkers Take Two Games in Kansas

EMPORIA, Kan. (AP) — The University of Arkansas Razorbacks completed a sweep of a two-game series from Emporia State Teachers College yesterday, scoring a 14-13 victory in a wild slugfest.

Arkansas defeated Emporia 5-1 in Monday's game.

Each team had one big inning in yesterday's battle, which included four home runs.

The Razorbacks scored nine runs in the second. A bases-loaded triple by Pat Foster sparked the rally. Foster concluded the rally, Arkansas scoring with a home run in the sixth. He had a single in his other trip to the plate.

Catcher Joe Nosari hit a 3-run homer for the Hogs. Shortstop C. B. Newton homered in the fifth for Arkansas. Nosari had three hits in four trips.

Emporia scored seven runs in the third inning to tie the game 9-9.

John Kerr went the route for Arkansas. Emporia used five pitchers.

Arkansas meets Wichita University tomorrow afternoon in a doubleheader at Wichita.

Frowns on Pender, Sugar Ray Fight

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Fred J. Saddy, chairman of the National Boxing Assn. Ratings Committee, said today a middleweight title bout between champion Ray Robinson and Paul Pender "would be nothing more than a joke."

"Pender is not his fight," declared Saddy. "Pender just made 10th place on the NBAs list of contenders to Robinson's title. Robinson has got to fight Carmen Basilio, No. 1, or Gene Fulmer, No. 2."

Saddy referred to the disclosure that the Sharkey A. A. of Boston had guaranteed Robinson $100,000 to meet Pender in a 15-round title fight in June. George Gainsford, Robinson's manager, described the offer as "quite attractive."

Earlier in the week Saddy said his group might withdraw its recognition of Sugar Ray as champion unless he signs for a title defense by April 25 — exactly 13 months after he recaptured the crown from Basilio.

If Robinson were to abdicate — and Saddy thinks he will — the NBA would seek a title match between Basilio and Fulmer, both former champions.

The NBA chose Davey Moore of Springfield, Ohio, the newly crowned featherweight champ, as its boxer of the month. Moore stopped Hogan Kid Bassey of Nigeria March 18 to bring back the 120 pound title to America.

DOGS

NAMING YOUR PUPPY BY FARLEY MANNING

A dog's name is as important to him as a man's is to a man; it becomes a part of its owner's personality in the bearer's own mind. And a dog's name can be equally important to the dog's owner because the name properly used is the easiest and usually most effective way of keeping a dog under control at all times it is in sound of its master's or mistress's voice.

A puppy can be hardly too young to be taught its name so its sense of identification is immediate and absolute and the puppy will respond instantly on hearing it. Many experienced dog breeders teach each puppy its name before it has been weaned.

The easiest way to do that is to associate the name in the puppy's mind with its favorite food. A spoonful of milk in a saucer or a bit of dog food is a proper supplement to the mother's milk as soon as the puppy shows signs of beginning to teeth and if the puppy is called by name when it is picked from the nest and again and again while it is placed before the food and then praised by name after it has eaten he will soon learn to come when he is called.

Because the sense of identification does become absolute it is never a good thing to attempt to change a dog's name after he has learned one is his. Sometimes it is impossible. In any case it is confusing to the dog and the practical usefulness of the name is damaged if not destroyed.

Choice of name deserves considerable thought. It should be short — no more than one or two syllables is best — and one that the dog's owner can pronounce distinctly and both in a tone of warm affection or sharply as occasion demands.

Pronounced sharply it can jerk a dog out of danger or make him stop instantly doing something he shouldn't do. Another tone of voice makes its use a reward he prizes above all other things.

Harris, Fleeman to Fight in Texas

DALLAS (AP) — Roy Harris has his third fight since his failure against world's heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson when he meets light heavyweight Donnie Fleeman tonight.

The speedy young man from Cyt and Shool rated seventh, hopes to win decisively and show he's still one of the top boxers of the major class. He thinks this will help him in getting out of two boxes he'll meet soon — Bran London and Ingemar Johansson.

Harris fought Fleeman, the Texas light heavyweight champion who ranks ninth nationally, last December and won by a mile although unable to deck Fleeman. The fight tonight will be nationally televised and will be for the Texas heavyweight championship, something Harris had held for several years.

The 12-round bout goes on at 9 p. m. (CST). Harris will weigh 200, Fleeman 181. The scoring will be by the 10-point most system.

FORGET SOMETHING KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Police are wondering if the burglars who invaded Knoxville recently got their values mixed. After scattering $5 in pennies on the floor and stacking $16 in cash on a counter, the thieves walked away with a dozen bottles of catnip.

TIME-OUT KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Although only 3 years old, Kent Melton knocked football star goes to games and can see the plays intelligently. Recently in church with his mother he turned to her and said, "I'm tired, let's go home at the half."

Revenue Collections

Ups During March

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — State Revenue Department collections in Arkansas during March were $975,000, higher than for the same month of 1958, it was announced today.

A report showed the state collected more than 10 million dollars this month.

Most of the increase — nearly $414,000 — came from sales tax collections. Total sales tax for the month was $3,940,000.

The general revenue fund received about seven million dollars in March. General revenues support most state agencies and institutions.

A special revenue breakdown revealed that gasoline tax collections climbed $40,000 to a total of almost 2 1/2 millions. Total special revenue collections amounted to some $3,120,000, slight increase over last month's of the current fiscal year stood at 102 million dollars compared to 98 million dollars at the same time in 1958.

New Radiation Hazard May Exist in Space

By FRANK CAREY
Associated Press Science Writer
CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP)—Another radiation hazard, to space flight may exist at altitudes below those of the much-discussed
Van Allen radiation belts, an Air Force scientist said today.

Between 20 miles above the earth and the 600-mile level at which the admittedly dangerous Van Allen layers begin, there will be a danger from atmospheric effects produced by certain kinds of cosmic rays, said
Dr. Herman Yagoda of the Air Force's Cambridge (Mass.) Research Center.

He said new findings about intensity variations in these incoming rays—which appear to depend upon sunspot cycles—suggest that studies aimed at determining their possible biological significance to spacemen be made only at the proper times as regards the occurrence of sunspots.
Otherwise, he said, scientists might miss the boat in determin-

Negro Accused of Rape Faces Court

EL DORADO, Ark. (AP)—Lonnie
B. Mitchell, 23-year-old Negro accused of raping a white widow here, was scheduled to go on trial
in Union Circuit Court today.

Chancellor Claude E. Love has ordered a new jury panel containing the names of Negroes. Only white jurors were on the regular panel.

The order was issued on motion of Mitchell's court appointed attorney, J.S. Thomas.

Mitchell, of El Dorado, was arrested several hours after the 76-year-old victim reported the rape March 10. She told police an intruder raped her at her home and stole $130.

Love is on the bench for Circuit
Judge Gus Jones, who suffered a heart attack recently.

Man Injured in Accident Dies

GRAVETTE, Ark. (AP)—W. K.
Tyner, 22, died in a hospital here yesterday of injuries suffered in an automobile accident last Saturday.

Tyner's car went off U. S. Highway 71, hit an embankment and plunged into a 12-foot ravine, police said. The impact tore off the steering wheel and the shaft was driven into his chest.

The accident happened about two miles north of Gravette.

ing if they do constitute a hazard
and, if so, how much of a danger.
Yagoda described the new findings at a meeting of the American Physical Society at Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

The findings, he said, boil down to the fact that at periods of minimum sunspot activity, the particular cosmic rays under study—called "low-energy heavy primaries"—are much more intense than at times when sunspots are at their maximum.

The evidence was obtained, he said, from flights of Navy Viking rockets in 1952 and 1954, when sunspots were at a minimum—and flights of other rockets made during 1958 when there was a sunspot maximum.

Explaining that this particular kind of cosmic ray is stopped at high altitudes by impact with electrons—but that it causes the generation of a kind of secondary ray called a "thin-down track"— Yagoda said: "This action might very well be responsible for biological changes in human tissue
upon exposure."

He said that black mice carried in balloons into the stratosphere had their hair turned gray and that this might be due to such
"thin-down" tracks.

MONSTER A-BORNING—Like the great gods of Greek mythology it is named after, the Titan missile is a thing of massive strength. America's latest entry in the ICBM field is 90 feet long and capable of spanning 8,000 miles. Above, Titan is shown in a view looking down from a catwalk at Martin Aircraft's Denver, Colo., plant.

XXXIII

I went up to my room, removed my coat, hat and shoes and sprawled on the bed. I did want a nap, but I also wanted to think a little.

I had just started to think when there came a soft thumping on my door. "Come in," I called wearily.

The door opened slowly. Lawrence Quincy stood there, weaving unsteadily. "Want to talk to you," His voice was thick and I across the room, but his mouth
did not have the drunk's loose-ness.

"Sure." I swung my feet to the floor. "Sit down."

He moved to a chair, sat down carefully, removed a soft straw hat and smoothed graying hair across his damp forehead. He said, "There's something I didn't tell Nate Kree—about that Simmons. He lied—Simmons, I mean. He offered me money—to foul up the product. I refused. I didn't take any money."

"But you did before," I said, watching him, "when you worked for Central Brick and Tile. You sold some ceramic formulas to the competition."

"Logan told you?"

"No. I found it out on my own."

He said in the same quiet voice,
"I wouldn't do a thing like that to Logan."

"Why not?"

"Because Logan gave me a break. He knew what I'd done at Central Brick, but he gave me another chance, when nobody in the industry would hire me. I'm a ceramist, and Buckeye was my last chance to work at my profession."

"Why did you sell those formulas?"

"I needed money," he said in a dead voice. "I always need more money than I make." His mouth tightened. "I always pick the wrong woman. And then I drink."

"I'm sorry about your wife," I said. "Nate Kree told me."

He moved his hands. "The whole town knows about her."

"Forget her," I said. "Maybe you can get squared away now."

"Yes, yes. He's moved out of here, yes. He's moved out of here, I didn't miss her. She—she—"

His voice cracked. He clasped his hands between his knees and then looked up at me with red,

wet eyes. "You got a drink?"

"No," I lied. "I'm sorry. Listen, will you tell Nate Kree about Simmons attempt to bribe you?"

"Sure. Sure I will, Bennett. You been decent to me, I—I thank you."

"That's all right."

He lurched up out of the chair and stood swaying. "There's one thing I have left, Bennett. I have a profession, and I'm good at it.
Without conceit, I can say that I am one of the top ceramic men in the industry."

"Okay. But what causes those wheels to break?"

He gazed at me vaguely, and I thought unessentially that the liquor was really hitting him at last. He said, "Don't know. Technically perfect." He caught himself on the chair arm.

He pointed a wavering finger.
His expression grew sly. "What you got up your sleeve for tonight? In—incriminating, evidence, huh? Bluff, pal. I smell
a bluff."

"Listen," I said, "I better take you home."

I returned to my room at the Maple Inn. I hadn't locked it when I'd left with Quincy. I stepped inside. Something slammed against the side of my head and I stumbled across the room, fell on the bed. I twisted around, and stared up at John Simmons. He was standing by the door, his right fist cocked, his thin face contorted with rage. He kicked the door shut.

"I'm going to give you a beating, you dirty double-crosser."

"Can you?"

"You've had a sample—come and get the rest."

I looked him over carefully. He wasn't drunk. He was mad and frustrated and itching. I thought of the body of Nick Pagano and of how it had looked. I thought of Pagano's wife and children. I was certain that Simmons held no such thoughts. Pagano and his family didn't matter to him. It had been an accident, the way he looked at it.

I snaked the .38 from my inside coat pocket. I even had time to cock it, which made the effort
all the better.

Simmons stopped as if I'd already shot him. He stared at the short, wicked snout of the gun.
It scared him.

I got up from the bed and un-cocked the gun, releasing the hammer gently, and tossed it to the bed. "I just wanted to start even," I said.

He swung at me and I ducked,
but not quite quickly enough, and his knuckles stung my left cheek.
I came up from under and landed a right in his ribs and followed with a left to the jaw. He wasn't hurt and came at me, moving his feet right and holding his hands right. For a couple of seconds he was all over me. Then I pushed him clear and landed a solid right on his chin. I heard his teeth click together and he flew backward, trailing his arms, and landed on the bed.

Slowly he pushed himself up
from the bed, adjusted his tie, picked up his brown parka and stray from the floor and moved to the door. He didn't look at me, not directly, and he said in a low,
intense voice, "I'll see you later."

"Good," I said. "Any time."

Crosby Says He Gave Boys Too Much

NEW YORK (AP)—Bing Crosby feels he failed as a father to his four grown sons by being too strict and then too forgiving, by handing out too much money and too little attention.

Crosby, one of the world's most famous and richest entertainers,
can't solve the problem that battles fathers everywhere. The boys don't come to him for help they don't listen to his advice.

"I think I failed them by giving them too much work and discipline, too much money and too little time and attention," he told Joe Hyams, Hollywood correspondent of the New York Herald Tribune. "But I did my best" and so did their mother.

Hyams quoted Crosby in a two part series in the newspaper as being discouraged as a parent, but hopeful the boys will be good citizens.

Crosby said he kept the boys on a tight string until they were 17.
Home by 10 p.m., whipped with a leather belt when necessary,
earning their own spending money. But he said it didn't produce the boys he hoped for.

None of the boys finished college. Crosby reluctantly sold the big Nevada ranch they summered on for years, and which he hoped would open another world to them than show business. Two of the boys have been caught drunk driving. Gary and Lindsay were recently asked to move from their apartment because of too much fun-raising. Philip and Dennis married Las Vegas showgirls.

"The marriages don't distress Bing. They married nice girls and that's the important thing,"
he said.

Crosby says maybe he can do better with his 5-month-old son
by Kathy Grant whom he married in 1957.

"His mother's family all live in Texas and they're pretty stout people. Maybe we'll try another environment. I've got another chance now with Harry Jr., and I'm going to keep a close eye on him."

Sentencing of Watchman Delayed

BENTONVILLE, Ark. (AP)—
Sentencing of Orville Nowlin, 47-
year-old nightwatchman convicted of second degree murder, was postponed yesterday to allow him
time to put his affairs in order.

Nowlin's punishment was set at 15 years in prison by the jury that convicted him last week in the pistol slaying March 2 of Carthal Barnwell, 41, a pool hall operator.

Prosecutor Ted P. Coxsey said sentence probably would be imposed next week. It had been scheduled for yesterday.

Barnwell was shot on a downtown Gravette street, Nowlin testified he and his wife had been estranged and had returned home unexpectedly to find Barnwell with her.

Coxsey said Eugene Coffelt, Nowlin's attorney, had told him he appeal was planned. Coffelt announced at the time of the trial that an appeal would be filed.

Enlistments Up in National Guard

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—The number of authorized enlistments of men without prior service in the Arkansas National Guard has been substantially increased, Maj. Gen.
Sherman T. Clinger, state adjutant general, said yesterday.

Clinger's announcement came after release of nearly 3 million dollars by the Department of Defense, to provide for six months active duty training for additional Guardsmen commencing before the end of the year.

The opportunity for expanded enlistments is expected to continue through April and perhaps through May, Clinger said.
